SECTION 1 – PROJECT OVERVIEW

Project Summary:

Roswell Arts Fund and the City of Roswell, Georgia invite artists and teams to submit portfolios for consideration for an exciting temporary public art festival.

A corridor is a link; a space that connects two points of interest. Our corridors connect our natural, historic, and cultural assets. These spaces are in-between, meant to be a place for travelling, occasionally gathering, but always moving. This project looks to elevate and feature one of these corridors; to transform it into a visual and performing celebration for the summer months of 2023. How do we celebrate this river, road, and path? How do we celebrate these spaces that are just as important to Roswell as the destinations they facilitate?

Kicking off June 2023, a stretch of greenspace, trail, and road between Roswell Underpass Park and Riverside Park will be transformed into a visual and performing arts celebration. The type of work displayed may be installation, sculptural, interactive, performative, or anything suitable for public exhibition. The work may be new or previously existing and rented for the exhibition.

About the Site:

The exhibition space will be along the Chattahoochee River from Roswell Underpass Park to Riverside Park.

Roswell Georgia is a historic, family-oriented community with a multitude of intrinsic natural assets. There is a distinct and unique character. In terms of material examples as well as historical context, artists should consider the following materials and concepts when selecting work from their portfolios and considering work for creation, exhibition, or performance:

- | | |
|-----------------------|----------------------------|
| wrought iron | exposed hardware |
| cast iron | post and beam construction |
| wood | family |
| light | organic |
| stone | treescape |
| architectural accents | the river |
| history | green parkland |
| roughhewn surfaces | blacksmithing |

A collection of images that reference these materials was made to give better context. <https://pin.it/1X1dpg0>

This invitation is extended to all qualified artists with no entry fee. Local/regional participating artists will be given priority in the selection process.

An online workshop will be hosted on Zoom to discuss the project and answer any questions pertaining to procurement.

The workshop will be on Friday December 16th at 10:00am, EST. <https://us02web.zoom.us/j/88439477406> The meeting will be recorded and made available for viewing on our "Calls and Opportunities Page" <https://roswellartsfund.org/calls-and-opportunities/>
